

EXCERPTS FROM LETTERS ON SUBJECTS OF CURRENT INTEREST

Pacifists.

Pacifists should remember that the greatest horrors of war are those from invasion; and that the only preventive of invasion is adequate preparation for defense.—ROBERT GRIMSHAW, Leonia, N. J.

The New York Times

Copyright © The New York Times
Originally published February 16, 1936